The Secret of Success.

Ability to Read the Signs and Energy to Grasp Opportunities When Presented.

"Coming events cast their shadows before" is an oft-quoted line of Campbell's which contains far more truth than poetry. The ability to perceive those shadows, and from them to judge correctly of the events that will follow, is the chief constituent of that "luck" which enables some men to accumulate fortunes while their more obtuse fellow mortals remain poverty stricken all their lives. Could we even understand the hand writing on the wall of passing events, to say nothing of those yet to come, we would all be millionaires in a few years, or, in any event, we would have our legitimate share of this world's goods.

How often do we hear men say, "had I known a few years ago what I know now I would be independently rich. But who would ever have thought that property then offered for sale at little or nothing would in a few years be worth thousands of dollars?" A very common expression, is it not? And yet in that expression lies concealed an unwitting acknowledgment that other men were shrewder and more far seeing than the person who gives it voice. They read the signs correctly, they invested a little money, held on to their property, and to-day they are the wealthy men of the country.

Now, in this respect, as in every other, history is constantly repeating itself, and the young man who is wide awake will profit by the experience of the successful men of ripe years by whom he is surrounded. Every year sees the sagacious business man, adding to his store of wealth by judicious investments in real estate in towns and cities which give promise of continued growth and permanent prosperity. Every year also sees other men in the same old groove they have always occupied, plodding along from day to day, hoarding their few dollars for fear they will make a mistake if they put it in property of any kind. Right here in Butte there are tens of thousands of dollars, the earnings of workmen, lying idle, not bringing in a cent of interest to the owners, which if judiciously invested would increase many fold in a very few years.

All experience teaches that real estate investments are the surest, and that in the long run they bring the largest returns. The only question that arises is, where is the best place to invest? That is a question which each must decide for himself, but others may give him pointers which may serve as finger posts to guide him on his way.

Now, within a few hours' ride of Butte there is a city inviting the investment of capital and offering such easy terms that any workingman may secure property and thus lay the foundation of future wealth and prosperity. It is a city of such splendid resources that it requires no unusual perspicacity to see that its growth must be constant and steady, and that its real estate values must keep constantly climbing upwards. Acute business men and capitalists have been quick to perceive this, and within the last few months they have invested tens of thousands of dollars in acre property in the suburbs of the city. Where such men display confidence men of small means need not fear to invest. The city we refer to is Bozeman, the county seat of Gallatin county and the future capital of Montana.

We do not ask anyone to take our word for anything concerning the future of Bozeman. All we ask is that people note the indications and think for themselves. In forming their conclusions they need not trust to the vague shadows cast by coming events. All that is necessary is to observe what is now passing and reason from cause to effect. If they will do this they will readily perceive that by no combination of circumstances can they lose by investing in any property that is offered for sale in Bozeman. If residence property is wanted, however, there are certain advantages of location which should not be overlooked. The city is building westward, and it will not be long until the entire West Side will be solidly built up with the better class of residences. The grounds in that vicinity are better adapted for residence purposes than those of any other part of the city. They are somewhat higher, and consequently present greater opportunities for picturesque adornment, besides being preferable for hygienic reasons.

THE WEST SIDE ADDITION.

While not disparaging any property offered for sale in Bozeman—it is all good—we claim that our West Side addition has superior advantages, and that considering its location and the favorable terms at which it is placed on the market it is the most desirable property in the city. The lots all consist of high ground, good soil, and we guarantee a living tree upon every corner.

Our terms are one-third cash, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months; or, $20 down and $10 per month until lots are paid for.

Call at our office and examine the beautiful painting described at the head of this column, and you will get a better idea of the West Side addition than whole columns of descriptive matter could give you.

THEY ACCUSE CARTER

Strange and Unsavory Rumors Floating Around Washington.

IT'S BADLY MIXED UP

The New York Sun Springs a Story About Our Own Tom Which Will Be Interesting Reading Out This Way.

Special to the Standard.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Right on top of the announcement of the coming resignation of "Our Tom" Carter, crops up in the New York Sun a report that his resignation has been hastened by a scandalous exposure of large proportions. This is the story: "A man of high official position in Washington is the authority for the statement that the contemplated resignation of T. H. Carter, commissioner of the general land office, is to avoid a scandal of gigantic proportions in relation with the management of the land office for the past year or two. 'Tom' Carter, as he is generally known, was first a delegate and then a member of the Fifty-first congress from Montana. He was then, as he is now, the special friend of Russell B. Harrison, through whose influence he obtained his appointment as commissioner. Although Mr. Carter was the secretary of the congressional campaign committee during the elections of 1890, he was himself defeated for a second term in congress by a democrat.

"It is said here that certain influential democrats have in their possession the most damaging evidence regarding the manner in which the management of the land office has been done-tailed into the political affairs in the western and northwestern states and that an explosion is imminent that will cause disaster to a clique of republicans who stand very close to the administration. It is understood that Commissioner Carter intended to have his resignation take effect at the close of the fiscal year, July 1. The exposure of the land office frauds will probably take place soon after the national conventions in June."

Carter has been so "slick" in all that he has done since he has been here that those who know him are not inclined to believe that he has been in any business in the land office that he has left to be uncovered to his discredit. There has been some talk here, however, that there was a transaction of a private and speculative nature touching some purchases and sales at Port Orchard, upon Puget Sound, that may be interesting and annoying to those who were concerned in it. From what has been learned here, the story to which I refer was to be reserved for use later on when Carter began to work for the place now held by Sanders.

The post office department has reestablished the office of Rapid, Yellowstone county, with Edward S. Tutt as post master.

Sweet Grass, Park county, post office will hereafter be known as Howie, and Wabona Harrison will be post master.

IT'S DENIED NOW.

The Chinese Minister Has Made No Kick Against That Act.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The treasury department today received from the state department a certified copy of the Chinese exclusion act, and new instructions to collectors of customs, special agents, and others whose duty it will be to enforce the provisions of the law are now being prepared in the treasury department and will be issued probably tomorrow in the form of a circular letter. Until the new instructions are issued United States officials will be governed by previous instructions on the subject.

It was said at the state department this afternoon that the Chinese minister had taken no official notice of the Chinese exclusion act. This refutes the report that he had applied for passports for members of the Chinese legation with a view to severance of diplomatic relations with the United States.

FOR THE LITTLE FELLOWS.

Small Towns to Get a Show in Postal Matters.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The house post-office committee has agreed to report favorably on the bill for the extension of free delivery in the rural districts, and the bill for the issue of fractional postal notes.

Representative Scott of Illinois has offered for reference in the house a resolution requesting the attorney general to inform the house whether he has received any information that would warrant him in instituting proceedings against the cordage trust for operating a monopoly in the binding twine business.

It's Needed.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—An important bill, designed to prevent the employment on public works of prison or convict labor, or the products of such labor, was reported to the house today from the labor committee by Representative Davis.

Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The offers of silver to the treasury today was $31,000,000. The amount purchased was $21,000,000 at $710.8715.

KILLED HER STEPPAUGHTER.

Abominable Cruelty Practiced on a Nine-Year-Old Girl.

LONDON, May 6.—The second wife of James Clark was arraigned today on a charge of having caused the death of her stepdaughter, aged 9 years. She was committed for trial and her husband was severely censured for not having prevented the cruelties that led to the death of his daughter. The evidence showed that the child was treated with greatest brutality, being often tied to balusters and kept there seven hours at a stretch. Mrs. Clark frequently beat her terribly with a strap or a heavy cane, and often when she claimed the girl was telling falsehoods she tied a string tightly about her tongue and left her for hours to suffer excruciating torture. The child finally gave way and died. A physician testified that but for the ill usage to which she was subjected and lack of food the child would have been perfectly healthy.

BITTER AS GALL.

Lord Salisbury Delivers a Venomous Speech Against Ireland.

LONDON, May 6.—Presiding today at a meeting of the Primrose club, Lord Salisbury said in part: "Home rule would place a hostile island on our flank and subject to infinite damage and disgraceful abandonment those in Ireland who have fought for our cause."

Salisbury claimed that his promise of six years ago that Ireland would be pacified if given consideration in regard to her material wants and firm, impartial and continuous administration of the law, been fulfilled. The spirit of disorder had gradually cowed before the spirit of the law. Peace had been so restored to Ireland that boycotting no longer exists. Still there are men in Ireland who have resolved to undo this work. "Parnell," said the speaker, "was a much more formidable opponent than any man he left behind."

Salisbury said he did not know of any of the recent menacing threats of the Ulster leaders that they dread being put under the feet of their hereditary enemies. The premier added that though he had not condemned the Catholic church he had condemned and would always condemn those who, holding high spiritual authority and heading the great spiritual organization, used those weapons for purely secular objects wherein no spiritual concern exists.

"The Ulsterites," said Salisbury, "have been taunted on their passive attitude. He did not believe in the unqualified doctrine of passive endurance."

"I believe," said the premier, "that the title of both kings and parliaments to obedience from their subjects depends upon those kings and parliaments observing the fundamental laws and understandings whereby they rule. Parliament has the right to govern the people with laws, but not the right to sell them into slavery. I do not believe in the unlimited and unrestricted power of parliaments any more than in such power of kings. Parliament, like kings, may take a course which is technically within the legal limits, but yet is entirely at variance with the understandings of the constitution whereby they rule."

CHICAGO IN THE SWIM.

The Windy City Has More Water Than She Can Use.

CHICAGO, May 6.—As a result of tremendous rains this week, there is grave danger of an immense amount of sewerage being discharged into the lake, which will pollute the city's water supply. The officials hope the flood may subside in time to enable them to commence pumping back into the Illinois & Michigan canal. At present the pumping works which perform this duty are idle, the water in the canal being so high it sets into the river and it is useless to use the pumps.

The water in the river today was several inches higher than yesterday and the current is so strong the movement of vessels was dangerous. One collision resulted today in the city harbor, the flood poured out until the river is lower to give the sewers full vent, not much change can be expected.

So far as the railroads are concerned, the worst effects of the storms have been overcome and traffic is being resumed, though it will be several days before business resumes its usual regularity.

It is reported that Indiana, from Monon to Hammond, is a vast lake, while in the vicinity of Joliet, LaPorte and other points in Northern Illinois, a vast amount of damage has been done and the waters are not yet showing any signs of subsiding.

THE PRINCE ON HIS EAR.

Russell Harrison Says Gibson is a Horrid, Nasty Fellow.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The Mail and Express prints an interview with Russell Harrison concerning the alleged issue of stock to him by the Yellowstone Park association. Harrison in substance says the attempt of Gibson to make it appear that the stock issued for him (Harrison) in his association is a malicious effort to drag him into a matter with which he has no connection.

He added that Gibson has preferred charges against every secretary of the interior since his association drove Rufus Hatch out of the park. They always made a determined effort to have a monopoly of everything in the park and to run things as they pleased.

NEARLY COOKED THE COOK.

The Latest Style of Knocking Out French Hash Houses.

BORDEAUX, May 6.—A mysterious explosion occurred in the kitchen of a hotel here today. The cook put coals on the fire and it is supposed a cartridge was in the coals. The noise of the explosion was like the report of a cannon. The cooking range was destroyed and the contents of the kitchen were smashed to pieces. The cook and waiters were badly burned.

The Work of Devils.

LIEGE, May 6.—A powerful cartridge was found this evening in the doorway of the residence of Baron Selys. The scene is the one of last Sunday's explosions. A fuse was attached to the cartridge but failed to burn.

At the police examination of the anarchist prisoners today Beaudouin confessed that he, Monneau and Wolff had stolen a quantity of Fowler powder and used it in connection with cartridges to blow up St. Martin's church and Count Minette's residence.

Tried to Kill the Minister.

PARIS, May 6.—Some time ago a man named Godrot was fined by a magistrate for a trifling offense. The minister of justice refused remission of the fine, and today Godrot appeared before the ministry and, being refused admission, shot and seriously wounded the sentry at the door. He said he intended to kill the minister of justice.

If Caught They'll Catch It.

MIDDLEBURY, Ky., May 6.—Jim Ford, a prominent farmer, was murdered on the road by two negroes with whom he had a difficulty. A posse is scouring the country for the negroes, and if caught they will be lynched.

TORIES WILL TRY WAR

Their Fiendish Scheme to Foment Civil Strife in Ireland.

GUNS ARE IN DEMAND

Squads of Patriots Secretly Drilling in Anticipation of Orange Outrages—The Gossip of the Old World.

[Copyright, 1892, by New York Associated Press.]

LONDON, May 6.—Gladstone's refusal to receive delegates from the workmen's conference who desired to present the eight hour question is felt by the rank and file of the liberal party to have been a tactical mistake. Taking advantage of the mistake the London conservative members decided to influence the government to take the opposite course. At a meeting of the liberal members they hesitated to condemn the action of Gladstone and therefore referred the matter to a committee with instructions to report on Tuesday. The conservatives stole a march by inducing Salisbury and Balfour to receive the deputation from the trades unions. They, however, will not be duped into supposing the conservatives are more zealous in the cause of labor than the liberals nor will either Salisbury or Balfour commit themselves to the eight-hour movement.

It is not doubted that the result of the conference will place the labor question at the head of the platform of both political parties to the embarrassment of the liberal chief who is pledged to home rule first. Gladstone's organ, the Speaker, will say to-morrow that the enemies of home rule are despairing of success by open attacks and now seek to divert the attention of the liberal masses from the Irish question and convert certain victory into a rout. Such expressions coming from the liberal press are suggestive of the strong alarm prevailing lest the party be wrecked on the labor difficulty before Salisbury's trend is known.

The Times upheld Gladstone's refusal to receive the delegation and announced that the efforts of the labor leaders to extort pledges at this stage was a movement as outrageous as the attempt to overthrow the judgment of parliament. The criticism does not affect satisfaction with the conservatives over the policy of the leaders who were obviously harassing the liberals and attracting toward the government a strong body of workmen. The official unionist paper declares the action of Gladstone has chilled the hearts of workmen, which once turned toward him, to the core.

At a conference of liberal election agents Schnadhorst calculated the general election will give the liberals a majority of 77 in the next house, and held that the labor complications will exert only a minor influence.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, at the conference, stated that the elections are certain to be held at the commencement of July following the Ulster convention in Dublin. Sir William asserted that the Orange lodges are privately subscribing money for the purchase of arms to carry out their threats to rebel rather than submit to an Irish parliament.

Whether the Tories really believe that an armed conflict would follow the establishment of an Irish parliament or not they assume sincerity and cultivate the belief that civil war would be the outcome of home rule. Salisbury's private secretary has written an Oxford clergyman to the end that "his lordship would be glad to see you impress upon the electors the probability that home rule would produce the greatest of all curses—a religious civil war."

After this it is no wonder we hear of men drilling in Ireland, and that rifles and munitions of war are being stored in England.

Fethian's free ship bill and the report that in the main the line will be built of ships made in America are causing considerable discussion in English shipping circles. The first effect of the passage of the Fethian bill, according to the English opinion, will be the advance in value of the English tramp screw steamers, many of which will replace the wooden side-wheel steamers now engaged in the American coasting trade. A subsequent result will be that some large Atlantic lines will be put under the American flag. In regard to the Inman line the Clyde builders hold that building vessels in America will add one-fourth to the cost, beside extra expenditure for the wages of officers, engineers, seamen and firemen.

The Countess Claremont, nee Belle Bilton, the famous music hall singer, has adopted a novel method of getting into "society" by joining the select circle of lady horse owners. Her horse, Sunlight, ran the Galway hunt and was beaten.

No petition in Deeming's case has yet been lodged with the judicial committee of the privy council. If a petition is forwarded from Australia it will be promptly refused a hearing.

Captain Verney, formerly a member of parliament, who was imprisoned for attempting to procure young girls for immoral purposes and who, upon conviction, was expelled from the house of commons, was released from Holloway jail, his term having expired. He has gone to his estate in Wales, where he will live in the strictest seclusion and privacy.

An expedition is to leave England June 1 to explore the unknown portions of the Dark Continent. It will be led and entirely equipped by William Astor Chandler, a young American known to all interested in African exploration for his daring trips through Mazonland some three years ago. Chandler is a son of the late John Winthrop Chandler and a grandson of the famous Sam Ward.

In the Jug.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Henry M. Miller, ex-county treasurer of Crawford county, Pa., was arrested here today for the embezzlement of $50,000 of county funds. He was taken to Treasdeville. The arrest was caused by the Delamater failure, as the day before it occurred Miller deposited $50,000 with the firm and the cry of collusion was raised.

IT'S ALL SETTLED.

Great Falls is Now Supremely Happy For She's in It.

Special to the Standard.

GREAT FALLS, May 6.—R. D. Caulfield of Rhode Island arrived here today with the plans for the erection and equipment of the Boston & Montana company's new electrolytic copper refinery, for the construction of which the company recently issued $200,000 in bonds. The contract was let a few days ago to the Thomas Houston company. The dynamo and 400,000 pounds of lead plates which will be used in the construction of the vats have been ordered and work will be commenced in a few days.

The works will be located on the hill above the smelter instead of the river bank as originally planned. The latter space will be reserved for the erection of other works in the future. Five hundred horse power will be used at first and the power will be conducted to the refinery by wires from the dynamo at the power house.

A party of gentlemen interested in the Anaconda company came in today with Marcus Daly's private car en route for the coal mines at Belt.

Mayor C. M. Webster left today for the East to be absent for several weeks on a matrimonial mission. He will lead to hymen's altar Miss Eloise Pettit who is now at her home in Fairbault, Minn., a young lady well known here and a sister of Mrs. W. A. Webster.

THE KICKERS CLUB.

Maryland Democrats Make Demand for Gold and Grover.

BALTIMORE, May 6.—The young democracy of Maryland had a large meeting last night. It was under the auspices of the Cleveland Tariff Reform club. Resolutions were adopted demanding that no delegate be chosen to the national convention who shall not have given an indubitable pledge that he favors tariff reform and the nomination of Grover Cleveland. In regard to tariff reform, Cleveland and silver, the resolutions say: "We protest in advance against all attempts at compromise, equivocations or straddles in regard to these great issues at stake serving, cowardly, dishonoring to the democratic party and as in the interest of tariff oppressors and silver kings and mine owners and hostile to the true interests of the people, and whether intended as so or not, as calculated to place the democratic party in a false position and bring about its defeat for the benefit of these two classes of persons."

BILLY'S BIG BOY.

He is a Prince, Ten Years Old and a Lieutenant in the Guards.

BERLIN, May 6.—Crown Prince Frederick William, the emperor's eldest son, was 10 years old today and in accordance with a long established custom he became "the youngest lieutenant" in the army, being assigned to the first regiment in the Guards. The ceremony of installing the crown prince was witnessed by all the members of the royal family. After the prince had taken his place in the regiment, the emperor headed the troops in a march past the empress. A grand banquet in honor of the occasion was given at the castle this afternoon at which the emperor toasted his son and heir.

WHEN THE LIGHTS WENT OUT.

Illinois Towns Suffer Greatly From Floods.

OTTAWA, Ill., May 6.—Heavy rains today brought the floods up to a point two feet higher. On the south side boats were removing the people from their homes. The electric railway power house was partially submerged and the line has been abandoned. The glass factory district is under water. Culverts, sewers and drains were rendered worthless by the floods. The loss in this town alone will be fully $75,000.

Marseilles, La Salle and Peru are without electric light or gas to-night.

AN EDITOR ROASTED.

The London Authorities Give a Coward a Lesson.

LONDON, May 6.—Charles W. Mowbray, publisher, and David J. Nichol, editor of the anarchist paper, the Common Weal, were tried today for counseling the murder of the authorities who caused the conviction of the Valsbail anarchists. Nichol was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor. Mowbray was acquitted on the ground that he was not connected with the paper at the time the article was published.

Slaughter Slaughtered.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 6.—L.D. Slaughter and Thomas Bailey, negro murderers, were executed at the county jail at noon. Slaughter killed his mistress, Jennie Love, and Bailey murdered J. F. Hackman, a peddler, and threw his body in a swamp. Both had their necks broken.

He Sneaked the Stuff.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—An attempt was made today to rob the Traders' Deposit bank at Mount Sterling. A circus was passing, and while the clerks were watching it, a sneak thief seized a package of $4,000 and was just getting out the door when discovered.

Done With Dynamite.

PARIS, May 6.—The police at St. Etienne today discovered a secret telegraph code containing a list of the adherents of the anarchists committee. An attempt was made today to blow up the railway bridge at Steenbeuf Noctaras.

At Newmarket.

LONDON, May 6.—Newmarket first spring meeting: Race for 1,000 guineas, stakes for 3-year-olds, fillies, one mile and 11 yards—won by Baron de Hirsch's La Fleche; Duke of Portland's Sineux second, Henry Milner's Adoration third.

A Washout Did It.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 6.—It is reported that a train on the Toledo, Peoria & Western railroad was wrecked this morning and several people drowned through the washout of a bridge.

Rome Trembled.

ROME, May 6.—An earthquake shock was felt today in the province of Potenza. No damage was done.

He Cashed In.

BERLIN, May 6.—The head of the Hammerstein bank suicided today.

THERE'S DANGER AHEAD

The Mississippi River Overflowing Its Banks Again.

MANY HOMES THREATENED

Another Great Disaster Expected—Towns Surrounded by the Roaring Flood—Leaves Break and Crops Destroyed.

KEOKUK, May 6.—The Mississippi has been rapidly rising for the past two days. The low lands are submerged and the crops are ruined and the farmers are taking their stock and families to high ground for protection. The small levees along the Des Moines and Fox rivers have been broken away and large tracts are under water. The main levee, however, is yet safe.

Alexandria, Mo., is surrounded by water and the people are traveling about in boats.

Should the rise continue much longer the disastrous flood of four years ago will be repeated.

Out of Home.

PEORIA, May 6.—The dyke of the La-marsh drain district in the lower end of this city gave away shortly after 7 o'clock this evening, flooding the district five miles long and two and a half miles wide. This was all reclaimed land and under cultivation. About 30 families live there and the greatest excitement prevails.

At Pekin, directly opposite, it is feared some of these people perished in the rush of water. Rescuing parties are going out from Pekin.

The Illinois river is higher than it has been since 1843.

In Bleeding Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, May 6.—Owing to the heavy rains the Kaw river rose to an alarming extent but is now falling. Considerable damage was done in Argentine and Armondale. The Missouri river has risen four feet in two days. No damage resulted, but should the rains continue the low-lying portions of the city will be inundated.

Musical Talent for Heaven.

LONDON, May 6.—Lamperti, the famous singing master, has just died at Milan. Among his pupils were Mme. Albani, Miss Van Zandt and Campanini.

SHOT RISING.

GREENVILLE, Miss., May 6.—The Mississippi river tonight is higher than at any previous record and is still rising. The levees, however, are in good condition.

WITH A BULLET.

Erick Jones shoots Himself in the Southern Hotel.

BUTTE, May 7.—At 2 o'clock this morning Erick Jones, a boarder at the Southern hotel, was found dead in his room by John Morrison. Jones had shot himself.

IT'S A GOOD JOE.

And The Salary Would Give a Frugal Man Enough to Eat.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The board of control of the national world's fair commission is actively aiding the local directory in its efforts to secure the necessary appropriation by congress for the completion of the world's fair work. At today's meeting a lengthy preamble and resolution, setting forth the necessity of such federal legislation, was adopted. The board also decided to retain the services of Thos. D. Brian as "special commissioner at large" at a salary of $2,000 per annum for the performance of such duties, either in this country or abroad, as may be assigned him by the director general.

IT LOOKS LIKE WAR.

Mysterious Movements of Troops in Southern Russia.

LONDON, May 6.—The Sebastopol correspondent of the Standard sends a dispatch to that paper and says preparations for war in Russia have never been more active than now. There is a continuous movement of troops to the frontiers, and the calling of the successive categories reserved in the interior has commenced. The reserves will be forwarded to various points for concentration when they can, in the easiest manner, reinforce the regulars in the Polish frontiers on the Austrian and German frontiers. Naval transport preparations are nearly completed.

Insinuation.

"I've got a washing machine here—" began the inventor. The capitalist looked at him in the cold, calculating manner common to capitalists, and answered: "Well, if I were you, I'd unright home and use it." That night the Anarchist Bund received another application for membership.—Indianapolis Journal.

Jay Gould Is Mightily Sick.

DENVER, May 6.—A special to the Republican from Santa Fe says that private dispatches announce that Jay Gould is quite ill and is confined to bed in his private car at Albuquerque.

Struck by a Cyclone.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 6.—This afternoon a cyclone struck this place, unroofing several houses and doing much minor damage. A Mrs. Willard was severely injured.

Same Words But Different Business.

"What are you charged with?" asked the judge. "Taking notes," answered the defendant.

Is he a reporter?

"No, your honor," the policeman answered. "He robbed a music store."—Washington Star.

It Killed Him.

LONDON, May 6.—The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says Very, who was injured in the terrible explosion in his restaurant on Boulevard Magenta, is dead.

But He Died.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Antonio Yanaga died today. He was the father of the present Duchess of Manchester and for many years was a prominent merchant in this city.
